From setting up wireless networking to video surveillance, to alarms and medicine reminder to GPS shoes, we do all to connect you to your loved ones and enable Quality of Life (QoL).

Many studies show that QoL increases by social engagement and communication and not by money. Our goal is to enable you to live happily and age gracefully thus increase QoL index.

As our lives become more and more digital, connecting and maintaining the devices and networks have become necessary. With all the identity theft and online scams, how do you protect yourself. Calling a tech support from a Brick and Mortar shop could be more expensive than the device itself.

Why not us? We are already serving you. You already trust us. We are licensed, bonded, and insured. Most importantly, we are very competitive.
